

After the Storm Adventures in Tairawhiti

Once upon a time, there were three dolls, two brothers, and a younger sister. They loved to play and have adventures together. One day, they woke up to the sound of thunder and raindrops hitting their window. It was a stormy day, but the dolls weren't worried because they had just received new blue rain jackets with hoods as a gift from their aunt. Excited to test their new jackets, the dolls decided to visit the beach after the storm. They knew that the beach would be quiet and peaceful after the storm, and they wanted to explore it together. So, they put on their new blue rain jackets, and off they went.

As they arrived at the beach, they saw that the storm had left the sand covered with seaweed and driftwood. However, the dolls weren't discouraged; they knew that it was an excellent opportunity to find treasures that the sea had washed ashore. The two brothers sat on the wood and looked around, while their younger sister walked along the beach, picking up shells and pretty stones. The rain had stopped, but the wind was still blowing but the dolls' new jackets kept them warm and dry.

After a while, the dolls started to feel hungry, so they decided to have a picnic on the beach. They sat on the sand and opened their picnic basket, filled with sandwiches, fruit, and biscuits. The dolls laughed and joked while enjoying their tasty meal. As they finished their picnic, the sun started to peek through the clouds, and the sky turned a beautiful shade of pink and orange. The dolls were amazed by the beauty of the sunset, and they decided to stay a little longer to watch it. As the sun finally set, the dolls realised that it was getting late, and they had to go home. They gathered their belongings and headed back, tired but happy after their beach adventure.

From that day on, the three dolls wore their blue rain jackets with pride, knowing that they had kept them warm and dry during their beach adventure. They also learned that even after a storm, there is always beauty to be found, and with the right company, any adventure can be fun.
